Our Fees

We offer a unique, cost-effective and professional alternative to expensive professional recording studios. Please contact us for information on our fees, contract and equipment hire pricing.

No Royalties

Our approach to audiobook royalties is simple. You retain 100% of copyright royalties on your finished audiobook.

That's right! QNS doesn't take a cent of your Royalties. Ever.

Once you receive your completed audiobook from QNS, It will be yours to do with as you please. Maybe you would like to upload it to one of the many online market place options? It is completely up to you!

Please note online distributors may have their own royalty arrangements and charges, which are separate from QNS.

AudioWords By You

QNS has been training Narrators since 1967! Our professional, experienced and passionate team, with combined experience of over 30 years in audio production, will guide you in the production of a polished and honed audiobook.

QNS will partner with you in every aspect of your audiobook's development, from training and ongoing support, to equipment (if required), to post-production and to promotion through QNS networks. Our team will guide you in the production of a professional quality audio book ready for today's market.

With audiobook sales booming, it is clear that the public are currently choosing to enjoy their books via audio. Why not ride this trend and tap into a potentially lucrative income stream by producing your own audio book?

Creative Control of Work

Imagine paying costly studio hire and narrator fees only to get your audiobook back to find that the narrator has completely misinterpreted your characters' voices? YOU are the only one who can record your book true to your artistic intention, so why not do it yourself?

Narrating your own book is something all authors should do. It can be a rewarding, satisfying experience and a great way to bring the entire creative process to completion. It will enhance your future writing, as you will start to hear the characters' voices come to life. Many authors have commented that knowing that their work will become an audiobook changes the way that they create their characters. If you want to make a career as an author, the skills QNS will teach you will be invaluable.

Quality Training, Skill Development & Professional Support during the Recording Process

Our focus is on providing the best training environment, theory, and practice, so you can effectively achieve the skills that will produce an audio version of your book. Think of QNS as your personal trainer, ready to coach and support you through the recording of your book. With QNS at your side, you will be able to complete the narrating and recording process with confidence. You will be using audio software to record and edit your audiobook. We have put together a great training package so that even someone who has had zero experience with audio recording will be able to record effectively. This includes instructional videos and step-by-step guides covering all aspects of the process, and there is also over the phone support available. Our experienced staff will finalise your audio by applying professional audio processing to ensure that it is at optimum quality and ready to enter the market. Our costs are a fraction of those of other similar organisations.
